General Library Card Information

- Your JCLC library card is good at any Jefferson County public library.
- Your library card should be presented at check out, when you inquire about your library account, or logging into the public computers.
- With your JCLC library card you have access to 40 libraries and nearly 2 million items in Jefferson County. If we don't have the item you're looking for we can have it sent to the Clay library on the next business day.
- You can check out up to 3 books from the Clay Public Library for three weeks. If a book is late, the late charge is .15 cents per day.
- Every JCLC library has a video limit. Clay Public Library will allow a cardholder to check out one video per card for one week. If a video is late, the late charge is $1.00 per day.
- You can use one of the public computers by typing in your library barcode.
- When you are ready to check out, you have the option of using our self check out machine located next to the circulation desk or we'll be happy to help you.
- Our services include faxing, printing, and copying documents all for a small fee.
